

Specialist advocacy, advice and dispute resolution

Enterprise Chambers is a leading commercial chancery set, providing specialist advocacy, advice and dispute resolution services. With offices in London, Bristol and Leeds, Chambers combines national reach with responsive clerking and practical commercial insight.

History

With roots extending back over a century, Chambers has developed into a modern specialist set while retaining the independence, judgment and collegiate values. Former members of chambers include Mr Justice Mann, Lord Millett, Lord Cross of Chelsea, Lord Justice Balcombe, Mr Justice Godfrey (Hong Kong Court of Appeal), and Justice Templeman (Supreme Court of Western Australia).

Expertise

Members are instructed in commercial litigation, company and partnership disputes, insolvency, banking and finance, civil fraud, property, landlord and tenant, and professional negligence, appearing in courts and tribunals at every level and regularly supporting clients through mediation, arbitration and other forms of ADR. Chambers offers counsel at every level of seniority, can assemble tailored teams for larger or more complex matters, and a number of members also have experience in other jurisdictions, including the Cayman Islands, British Virgin Islands, Turks and Caicos, DIFC (Dubai), AIFC (Astana), and New York.

The clerking team

The clerking team is led by Senior Clerk Michael Ireland. In London, the team is organised into dedicated practice groups; in Bristol and Leeds, clerking is led locally to provide accessible regional service. Approachable, responsive and commercially aware, the team helps clients identify suitable counsel, manage availability and fees, and ensure instructions are handled efficiently from enquiry to conclusion.
